Building the future is in our nature

At the core of our values are three connected pillars: Innovation, People, and Planet. Join us on our journey as we strive to make every action count, every choice eco-conscious, and every day a step closer to a world we can all be proud of.

INNOVATION

We're steadfast in our pursuit of selecting products that meet sustainability standards.

PEOPLE

Placing people's well-being at the forefront, we're committed to practices that foster equitable labor and community empowerment.

PLANET

Our commitment to the planet fuels our use of sustainable materials and processes in every step we take.

Partner with us in our mission as we believe that building the future is not just a goal, it's part of our nature.

Our materials

Organic cotton

Cotton sourced from sustainable and traditional crops, without chemicals or persistent and toxic pesticides.

Recycled Cotton

Recycling of discarded cotton, whether in weaving, manufacturing or even post-consumer use. Recycled cotton avoids additional textile waste and requires fewer resources than conventional cotton.

Jute

Jute is a vegetable textile fibre. Biodegradable and recyclable, and therefore environmentally friendly.

Flax

A natural material made from the fibres of the flax plant. Its characteristics make it possible to design sustainable, functional and attractive products.

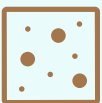

Natural straw fibre

A rapidly renewable material, natural straw fibre has great malleability, allowing bends and curves.

Bamboo Fibre

Made from bamboo pulp, bamboo fibres are natural and biodegradable. Widely used in the composition of high-performance materials for its resistance, durability, and stability.

Cork

Plant origin material from the bark of cork oaks, cork is highly resistant to moisture and therefore durable and environmentally friendly.

Recycled ABS

Recycling ABS, instead of using virgin ABS, promotes a reduction of the carbon footprint in the manufacturing process by up to 89%.

Recycled milk cartons

Reusing the aluminium and cardboard contained in used milk cartons.

Recycled paper

Paper produced by reusing paper, thus reducing CO2 emissions and saving water and energy.

Stone Paper

Paper made from stone waste from industry, construction or quarries, and therefore does not require water or wood for its manufacture.

Paper from sustainable forest management

This type of paper comes from forests that are managed in a sustainable way, thus ensuring the correct use of their resources in paper manufacturing.

rPET

Material made from the reuse of PET, the most frequently used plastic in the creation of bottles and other containers. This process allows a new life for these previously used items.

Recycled stainless steel

A conscious material that minimises the negative impacts of stainless steel production, contributing to the preservation of natural resources and the reduction of carbon emissions.

Calcium Carbonate

Calcium carbonate is a natural and renewable material that represents a sustainable alternative to plastic. An option that reduces the use of plastic resins and compatible with common recycling processes.

Recycled aluminium

Recycled material from the reuse of aluminium, usually associated with resistant and durable products.

Elephant Poop

One elephant produces about 500kg of waste a day, enough to make 1000 sheets of A4 paper. 14,000 adult trees would therefore be saved using only 10% of the world's available elephant waste. Recycled raw materials, together with an environmentally friendly manufacturing process, ensure that this material has a lower carbon footprint.

Tea Leaf Waste

4g of leftover tea leaves allows the creation of 1 sheet of A4 paper. This waste, in the UK alone, would be enough to produce 44 billion A4 sheets. These figures are equivalent to 220,000 adult trees that would be saved. Recycled raw materials, along with an environmentally friendly manufacturing process, ensure that this material has a lower carbon footprint.

Coffee Husks

One cup of coffee has an associated waste of 7g of coffee husks. To manufacture 1 notebook, 14g of coffee husks are needed, or just 2 coffee cups. The recycled raw materials, together with an environmentally friendly manufacturing process, ensure that this material has a lower carbon footprint.
